Children, Youth and DDR: a Practitioner's Guide

Training provider: Folke Bernadotte Academy (FBA)

Description: Historically, DDR interventions have been limited in addressing the rights and needs of children and youth, in spite of legal frameworks that provide for their protection. Failing to support children and youth exiting armed groups can lead to further marginalization, exposure to violence and re-recruitment into violent conflict. For DDR to meaningfully contribute to breaking the cycle of violence, the support provided must address the specific needs and experiences of girls and boys and young women and men well aligned with the agendas for Children and Armed Conflict and Youth, Peace and Security. To address this gap, FBA offers a comprehensive hybrid course focusing on the necessary analysis, design and application of DDR programming that addresses the needs and opportunities associated with a rights-based and sustainable support to children and youth formerly associated with armed groups.

Format: Online.

Date: 13 May – 18 June 2021. Enrolment deadline was 26 March 2021.

Cost: 500 EUR.

DDR Planning course

Training provider: Swedish Armed Forces International Centre (SWEDINT)

Description: The DDR Planning course enables the participants to effectively take part in the planning and preparation phase of a present or future DDR program. The course program is based on the United Nations Integrated Disarmament, Demobilisation and Reintegration Standards (IDDRS), as well as practitioners' best practices. The course is not intended as an introduction to DDR but rather as a continuation of existing introductory courses.

Format: In person.

Date: Cancelled.

Location: Sweden.

Cost: SEK 6,000.

Foundational Training Course on DDR with Special Emphasis on Asymmetrical Contexts

Training provider: Cairo International Center for Conflict Resolution, Peacekeeping and Peacebuilding (CCCPA) and the Egyptian Agency for Partnership for Development (EAPD)

Description: Over the past few decades a growing number of African countries have undertaken some form of Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration (DDR) programming to improve security in post conflict societies. The emphasis on DDR comes in recognition of the spoiler effect of former armed groups in derailing peace processes and prolonging the cycles of violence. This is further exacerbated by terrorist armed groups who are ideologically-driven and unamenable to political solutions. This training will be based on the revised Integrated DDR Standards (IDDRS) and the African Union DDR framework as articulated in the AU's Operational Guidance Notes (OGNs). The training comes at a critical juncture whereby the revised IDDRS and African Union Operational Guidance Notes have been launched, and IDDRTG members are reflecting upon means of incorporating the revised IDDRS into training curricula as well as harmonize it with other existing standards, namely the AU OGNs.

Format: Online.

Date: 10 – 24 June 2021. Deadline for applications is 30 May 2021.

Cost: free.

Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration of former combatants (DDR)

Training provider: Folke Bernadotte Academy (FBA)

Description: Following violent conflict or serious political and social crisis, a successful post-conflict transition is key in the peacebuilding and reconciliation process. Within this post-conflict transition, the disarmament, demobilization and reintegration of former combatants (DDR) is instrumental, seeking to increase security levels locally and nationally, but also enabling those associated with armed groups to (re)join mainstream society following the end of conflict. Contemporary challenges and developments within the field have challenged the traditional use of DDR as a post-conflict tool. Responding to these challenges, the United Nations Inter-Agency Working Group on DDR has initiated a revision of the Integrated DDR Standards (IDDRS) for the standards to better suit contemporary challenges of peacebuilding environments. In light of this revision, the Folke Bernadotte Academy (FBA) revised its global course on DDR, which was re-launched in November 2019 in Stockholm. A second round of the course will be completed in a virtual format between 6 September and 22 October 2021.

Link: <https://fba.se/en/how-we-work/courses/upcoming-courses/>

Format: Online.

Date: 6 September – 22 October 2021. Deadline for applications is 6 August 2021.

Cost: The course has a fee of 5000 SEK (or 500 EURO), which covers tuition and administrative costs. A limited number of scholarships can – in exceptional cases – be offered, covering parts of these expenses, for qualified participants who otherwise would not be able to attend. If you are interested, please indicate this on your application form, including a motivation statement.

Effective Weapons and Ammunition Management in a changing DDR context

Training provider: UN Department of Peace Operations (DPO), UN Office for Disarmament Affairs (ODA), UN Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR), Kofi Annan International Peacekeeping Training Centre (KAIPTC)

Description: Weapons and ammunition management has become increasingly central to the work of United Nations peace operations, special political missions and in non-mission settings, including as part of integrated disarmament, demobilization and reintegration (DDR) processes. There is a growing recognition of the need to promote weapons and ammunition management to effectively reduce the capacity of individuals and groups to engage in armed violence and to address the risks stemming from the illicit possession of weapons, ammunition and explosives. To support DDR practitioners in effectively addressing the management of weapons and ammunition in traditional DDR settings, transitional (pre-DDR) initiatives and community-violence-reduction (CVR) approaches, the United Nations Department of Peace Operations (DPO) and the United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs (ODA) in collaboration with the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) have developed an annual training course on “Effective weapons and ammunition management in a changing DDR context”. Candidates should have substantive technical knowledge and experience in DDR programming and/or weapons and ammunition management to participate in the training course.
